You can enter your work to the iF DESIGN AWARD 2017 in these seven disciplines:

Product

From USB sticks to combine harvesters: in this discipline, you can enter products of all kinds. A product that beats the competition in this discipline successfully proves its superior value.

Packaging

The packaging is the first thing consumers will see, especially when it features innovative design. In the packaging discipline, the overall design, materials and graphics will be assessed.

Communication

Whether it's a website, an annual report or a complete CI concept for a company: here, we are looking for great work by communication and graphic designers.

Interior Architecture

Interior design is fundamental to how we perceive the ambience of a space, whether it's a hotel lounge, an exhibition stand, a retail space or a home. The spaces are as diverse as the discipline itself.

Professional Concept

You have developed an innovative idea or a great concept? Then don't hide it from us. The professional concept discipline is for groundbreaking work and experimental concepts from all design fields.

Service Design

In this discipline, customer focus and usability are more than just buzzwords. Because service-related processes require holistic design concepts.

Architecture

Buildings, facades, landscapes and public squares: in our daily life we are surrounded by architecture. Architecture generates identity, which is why it is an important part of the iF DESIGN AWARD.
